THE

From THURSDAY April 3d, to THURSDAY April 10th, 1755.

LONDON, January 31.

A LETTER from Chatham, dated last Thursday, contains the following advices.

'It is confidently reported here that fifteen sail of ships are to be commissioned in this harbour only. Capt. Stevens's pendant is hoisted on board the Litchfield. The Dunkirk comes out of the dock to-morrow; then comes in the Yarmouth and Somerset. The Prince's ballast is taking out, and the greatest expedition used on this important occasion. A number of shipwrights are entered; and the rope makers work extra; and in general we are in high spirits, hoping to convince our sanguine neighbours that they had better not have roused the English lion.

'The right hon. the lord Harry Powlett, commodore of the guardships in this harbour, and member of parliament for Lymington in Hampshire, came to town this day at noon.'

On Saturday Mr. Maddox, one of his majesty's messengers, arrived at the secretary of state's office, with dispatches from Paris.

London, February 1. We hear that 10 more men of war were put into commission on Tuesday last, and that 12,000 more seamen will be allowed for the service of the current year.

We hear that the three regiments of foot guards are speedily to be augmented to 70 men each company.

The squadron now fitting out, is to consist of 22 third and fourth rates.

They write from Chatham that the Somerset, a fine third rate, had been dock'd, and that the shipwrights and caulkers were to sheath and complete her by last Wednesday. The Torbay, Orford, and Nassau, are preparing with the utmost expedition to be dock'd.

Capt. Harry Norris is appointed commander of the Yarmouth man of war, in the room of Capt. Saunders, appointed captain of the Prince man of war.

Two deserters from the duke of Berwick's regimet in France, who are arrived in England, say, that 6000 men were arrived at Cherburg, in order to embark for Pondicherry.

English artificers are come from France, lest [illegible] should be forced on board any of their ships of war, and be afterwards taken by ours, and condemned.

We hear that a person lately employed as secretary by a certain foreign ambassador, but now discharged his service, has been taken up, together with his clerk and another gentleman, by order of the government, and all his papers seized.

We hear that several gentlemen of his majesty's navy, are come to a resolution to raise a subscription for discharging a number of poor sailors, confined for small debts in several prisons in and about London; and that the pursers will supply the slops at prime cost.

The last letters from Paris inform us, that they have received, over land from India, a particular account of the engagement between the English and French, wherein the convoy destined for major Lawrence's camp, was intercepted and cut off; according to which account, the loss of the English was treble of what was published by authority here; and, in consequence thereof, the Swiss troops at fort St. David's were ordered to march to fort St. George, to reinforce the garison of that place. This account is said to have been sent by an express to the French ambassador; and we presume it has given rise to the unwelcome report concerning Madrass.

We learn from Holland, that people in general are become uneasy about the present state of affairs, and seem to wish that so many hasty reductions had not been made in their land forces, or that the savings had been immediately laid out in restoring their marine.

They write from Paris, that the armament at Brest is making with no other view but to reinforce the French settlemeats in America, in case matters relating to the affairs of that country cannot be accommodated; and that the squadron which is fitting out on this occasion, will be ready to sail in April or May next.

Extract of a Letter from Montsbay, Jan. 20.

"We are informed by some smugglers lately arrived from Morlaix, that there are 16 men of war, in the harbour of Brest, ready to put to sea immediately, and not a sailor to be seen in the ports of Britanny, but all called to their stations; and the merchants, who supply the smugglers, are of opinion that their gain is near a crisis, because nothing but an immediate rupture with England is expected."

We hear that a sloop of war is ordered to go and drop anchor in the road of Brest, to see what is doing there, and bring early intelligence; but what reception she may meet with, may not perhaps be known these two or three weeks. We also hear from Portsmouth, that they are hard at work in fitting twelve capital ships.

A draught is ordered to be made out of the pensioners at Greenwich hospital, in order to man some of the men of war now fitting out.

Two expresses arrived last week from a neighbouring court, which occasion various conjectures.

The lords of the admiralty sit de die in diem.

London, Feb. 4. We learn from Vienna, that orders have been transmitted to the commanders of all the strong fortresses in Hungary, to hold every thing in a proper posture of defence; but at the same time to be extremely careful to avoid giving any umbrage to the Turks. Count Zinzendorf, who is going to Petersburgh to compliment the Czarina on the birth of the Imperial prince, is also charged with instructions relative to the change of sovereigns at Constantinople.

Letters from Madrid take notice that the marquis de la Mina, captain general of Catalonia, is come up to court, and 'tis generally supposed he has been sent for to receive directions about some military preparations that are to be made in that province.

According to the last advices from Brest, they are in the greatest hurry imaginable about the armament making in that port; the men work on sundays and holidays; and they are also making up great quantities of medicines in the hospitals.

We hear that the parliament will rise about the end of March.

The right hon. the lord Anson, first lord of the admiralty, is chosen a governor of the Charter-house, in the room of the late earl Gower.

A fleet is sailed from Brest, consisting of six men of war, and twelve transports, with twelve battallions on board.

Plymouth-yard, Jan. 31. Our artificers are in high spirits, and labour with the utmost expedition. His majesty's ships Mars and Northumberland have been sheathed, as likewise the Augusta. The Defiance is already cleaned, and out of the dock.

Plymouth, Feb. 2. An admiral is soon expected here to forward the service, as in the late war. The post arrives every day from London.

Brest, Jan. 8. All our Workshops are full of people, who work with incredible ardour. Besides the hands brought from all Parts, all the carpenters and joiners of the town are at work for the Government: And upwards of thirty ovens are employed in baking biscuits. There is no scarcity of money to pay the workmen, fresh supplies arriving daily. But notwithstanding all this diligence the fleet will not be so soon ready to put to Sea.

Hague, Jan. 20. Letters received from our minister at Petersburgh import, that there is a great stir among the senators and ministers of state in Russia; that the ministry are much perplexed by some dispatches received from Constantinople, and that something seems to be forming in the interior of the empire. Several persons of distinction both at Moscow and at Petersbourgh have been taken up, and sent prisoners to the fortress of Stuffelbourg, where a commission nominated by the empress is employed in examining them with no less assiduity than secrecy.

Paris, Jan. 27. Upwards of 8000 Men are at work day and night at Brest.

Hague, Jan. 31. This week six couriers arrived at Helvoetsluys from London, four for Germany, one for the North, and one for Italy.

London, Feb 5. CHARLES PINCKNEY, Esq; one of his Majesty's Council of SOUTH-CAROLINA, has lately had the Honour to wait on her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales at Leicester House, with a Piece of Silk Damask of the Growth and Product of his own Plantation in that Province, and dyed a fine Blue with CAROLINA INDIGO, which her Royal Highness was pleased to receive very favourably; and to declare her Satisfaction in seeing such Improvements made in the Produce of our Colonies; and so much approved of the same, that she will honour it with her own Wearing.

London, Febr. 6. The lords of the admiralty have put the St. George of 90 guns into commission, and given the command to Capt. John Storr; on board this ship Sir Edward Hawke hoists his flag.

Last Saturday the following ships were ordered to be fitted for the sea, viz. the Barfleur, 2d rate, and Lancaster, 3d rate, for pendants, at Chatham. Ramilies, 2d rate; Grafton and Chichester, 3d rates, at Portsmouth. Ipswich, 3d rate, and Warwick, 4th rate, at Plymouth. There are in commission, besides the above-mentioned, forty-one ships, the greatest part of which are of the line of battle. No ship under sixty guns is esteemed to be of the line of battle.

We hear that the public will soon be agreeably entertained with a posthumous piece of the late Henry Fielding's, Esq; intitled, A Journal of a Voyage to Lisbon—And we hear there will be added to it a fragment of his answer to lord Bolingbroke.

On Tuesday the Somerset, of 80 guns, and some more men of war, were put into commission.

We hear that Capt. Geary is appointed Captain of the Somerset.

We hear a regiment of marines is to be raised directly.

It is said that our English shipwrights, as well as English sailors, will be invited home by a proclamation; setting forth, that if they return to their country against such a day, they shall not only be pardoned, but kindly received; and emoluments and privileges allotted by parliament for their encouragement for the future: But that they who will not return, if they are taken in either French or Spanish ships, shall have no mercy, but be hanged up on the yard-arm without court-martial.

We hear that there have been near 3000 men pressed, and about one third of them retained.

It has been said in some of the foreign gazettes, that the new treaty between France and Spain relates only to commerce; but we now hear that it is nothing less than an alliance offensive and defensive.

Paris, Feb. 3. M. Robinson is arrived here from London, to confer with our ministry on the means of accommodating the differences which subsist between the English and us with regard to the Indies.

London, Feb. 8. Letters of good credit assure, that we shall speedily hear of a reigning prince in Germany abjuring the protestant religion to embrace popery.

We hear that new credentials have been sent to Mr. Porter, the british embassador at Constantinople, accompanied with a letter, wherein his majesty congratulates Osman on his Accession to the Ottoman throne, and assures him that he will eagerly embrace every opportunity to cultivate the good understanding that has subsisted so many years between the two courts.

According to the last letters from Constantinople, some people look on the filial tenderness of the new sultan for his aged mother as a mark of a good heart. Others observe, that we must not pronounce precipitately concerning the temper of princes brought up in the honourable prisons of the Seraglio, where they make it their whole study to render their real characters impenetrable, and to assume an outside the least capable of giving umbrage to the reigning prince. It will not be till after the new sultan hath had time to look about him, and to study the political maxims of Europe and Asia, that we shall be at liberty to speak of his manner of thinking. The death of count Desalleurs, the French minister, which happened a little before that of Mahomet, leaves a clear field for the Russian and Imperial ministers to keep the new sultan in the principles of his predecessors.

According to private letters from Russia several persons have been lately taken into custody for talking too freely of the ministry.

A command of the royal Train of artillery have orders to hold themselves in readiness upon an hour's notice.

Capt. Peter Denis is by the lords of the admiralty appointed commander of the Medway man of war, now at Deptford, on board which ship admiral Boscawen intends to hoist his flag.

The right hon. the lords of the admiralty have been pleased to grant protections to ships cleared from the custom house, outward bound, and to such as have perishable goods on board; likewise to fishing-vessels, and to west country and ware barges; and to shipwrights in builders yards. It is supposed that colliers will have some indulgence, on account of the severity of the season.

We are well informed that a fleet of twenty five ships of the line of battle will be ready to rendezvous at Portsmouth or in the Downs, fit for any service, by the 20th of this month.

We hear there is to be an act of insolvency, whereby all able bodied debtors may recover their liberty by serving their king and country either in the army or navy.

The latter end of last week a great number of guns, ammunition, beds, &c. were put on board the Montague sloop at the Tower for Gibraltar.

Extract of a letter from Paris, Jan. 20.

"We hear that Mr. Macnamara, lieutenant general of the king's naval forces, has been sent for to court, and is appointed to command the squadron actually equipping at Brest and Rochefort, that he is to hoist his flag on board the Formidable, of eighty guns, and is to have three chefs d'Escadre under him, viz. Count Dubois de la Motte, M. Perrier de Salvert, and M. de Montouer. This squadron, it is pretended, will consist of six ships of the line, five frigates and ten transports of five, eight and ten guns. The number of troops to be embarked is set at 3000; but nothing can be positively asserted as to numbers of men and ships."

= Messrs.

Meſſrs. Mildmay and Ruviguy de Coine, commiſſaries of the king of Great Britain for regulating limits in America, went a few days ago to Verſailles, and had a conference with M. Rouille, ſecretary of ſtate for foreign affairs, and with the Abbé de la Ville, in conſequence of ſome diſpatches they had received from London."

London, February 21. His majeſty has been pleaſed to appoint Henry Oſborn, Eſq; to be vice-admiral of the red.

Thomas Griffin, Eſq; and Sir Edward Hawke, to be vice-admirals of the white.

Charles Knowles, Eſq; the hon. John Forbes, and the hon. Edward Boſcawen, to be vice admirals of the blue.

Charles Watſon, Eſq; and Temple Weſt, Eſq; to be rear admirals of the red.

George Pocock, Eſq; and the honourable George Townſhend, to be rear admirals of the white. And Savage Moſtyn, Eſq; to be rear admiral of the blue.

Capt. Faulkner commands the Lyme, and Capt. Jonas the Diſpatch ſloop, lately put into commiſſion.

The Antelope, Hampſhire, Falmouth, and Rochester, fourth rates, are ordered to be fitted for ſea at Chatham. And on Thurſday the Naſſau, of 70 guns, was commiſſioned there.

Men of war's tenders are ſailed to Newcaſtle, &c. to preſs men for his majeſty's ſervice.

On Sunday there was a numerous appearance at court of ſea officers; who all ſeemed to vye with each other in ſhewing their loyalty to their king and country.

Such expedition has been made at Portſmouth dock, that the Anſon, Terrible, Nottingham, and Fougeux, are already fit for ſea ſervice. The Anſon is now at Spithead, and the others will follow very ſpeedily.

Gloſter, Feb. 7. Yeſterday the Prince George, the Grafton, and the Blandford were put into commiſſion.

Chatham, Feb. 7. They work with the greateſt vigour and ſpirit, an inſtance of which is the ſheathing the Prince of 90 guns in a day (i.e.) between yeſterday morning and the evening of the ſame day; they are rigging her in the dock, and ſhe will be out in a few days. The Naſſau was commiſſioned yeſterday, and he command given to Capt. Cockburne. The Yarmouth and Somerſet will ſail in a day or two; the Durham and Lichfield are in great forwardneſs.

London, Feb. 13. Private Letters from Brittany inform us, that two Ships of the Line, and ſeveral tranſports, with two thouſand land forces on board, ſailed ſome days ago from Port l'Orient for the Eaſt-

Moſtyn is to hoiſt his Flag on board one of war at Portſmouth.
four thouſand marines are to that five men of war are to ſail directly to the Eaſt-Indies.

We hear the marines to be raiſed are to be formed into companies of 100 men each, and to be under the command of majors on half pay; and the other officers are likewiſe to be taken from among thoſe who are upon half pay.

Laſt Thurſday afternoon a ſmart preſs for Seamen broke out at Shields, when about fifty or ſeventy able hands were taken by the crew of the Peggy ſloop of war. The preſs gang went on board a ſhip, where only one of the Hands was left, who immediately jumped into their long Boat, knock'd down the man they had left to keep it cloſe to the ſhip, then rowed himſelf aſhore, and got clear off. A tender belonging to the ſaid ſloop of war carried in twenty volunteers, from Leith, laſt week.

Many Ships are arrived at all the out ports; and we hear that a great number of ſeamen have voluntarily enter'd on board his majeſty's fleet.

London, Feb. 14. We hear that orders are iſſued at the war office, to augment Sir Peter Halket's and Col. Dunbar's regiments, and the four regiments at Nova-Scotia, to 1000 men each.

It is confidently reported that 40 independent companies of marines will be forthwith raiſ'd, to conſiſt of 100 men each company, beſides the four regiments of marines which are to be raiſed. The latter, it is ſaid, are to be under the direction of the admiralty, and are to be ſtation'd at Portſmouth, Chatham, &c.

Chatham, Feb. 10. This day ſailed from hence for the Nore, the Somerſet, Capt. Geary, who behav'd with ſuch bravery in the laſt war: and the Yarmouth, Capt. Harry Nottis, the worthy ſon of the late admiral of that name. The Culloden, Capt. Ward, lies at the Nore with 600 preſs'd men, who are diſtributed as occaſion requires. She is ſoon to come in here, and be ſucceeded in that ſtation by the Barfleur. Great numbers of clever Londoners reſort hither daily, and ſeem chearfully diſpoſed to become able ſeamen. Admiral Weſt is expected here daily. The fitting and rigging of the ſhips go on briſkly all weathers.

South-Carolina.

February Term, 1755.

WHEREAS by an act of the general aſſembly of the province of South Carolina aforeſaid, renunciations of inheritance, dower, and thirds of feme coverts in this province, taken and acknowledged before the chief juſtice of this province, or before ſuch perſon or perſons as are authoriſed by him, are declared to be as effectual and valid in law, to all intents and purpoſes whatſoever, as any fine paſſed in due form of law in his majeſty's court of common pleas at Weſtminſter, for conveying of land in Great-Britain.

And Whereas many errors, faults and abuſes have and may be committed, in the drawing and ſuing out of ſuch renunciations of inheritance, dower, and thirds, by reaſon that many perſons unſkilful in the law, and ſuch as are not under the immediate direction and authority of this court, do take upon them to draw and ſue out ſuch renunciations of inheritance, dower or thirds, and which may tend greatly to the hurt, prejudice and diſheriſon of numbers of the good people of this province: And inaſmuch as, if any ſuch abuſes, faults or miſdemeanours do happen touching the ſame, through their ignorance or negligence, no reformation or puniſhment can be had, they being for the moſt part perſons unknown and living in remote or obſcure places.

It is therefore ORDERED, that no renunciations of inheritance or dower, and thirds, ſhall be received, or allowed by the court here, unleſs the ſame appears to have been ſued out by ſome barriſter at law, or ſome of the attornies of this court, and ſubſcribed with the name of ſuch barriſter or attorney, to the intent that if any miſdemeanour be committed, the perſon ſubſcribing ſuch renunciation, may be called to anſwer for it.

And be it further ORDERED, that no renunciation of inheritance, dower, or thirds whatſoever, taken and acknowledged before any commiſſioner or commiſioners, by virtue of any writ of Dedimus Poteſtatem to them directed, be allowed to paſs, unleſs the perſon or perſons before whom ſuch acknowledgment was made, or one of them, or ſome perſon preſent when ſuch acknowledgment was made, do perſonally appear before the chief-juſtice of this province, or one of the aſſiſtant juſtices, and be examined upon oath, touching the due execution thereof; which oath ſhall be indorſed on the back of ſuch writ of Dedimus Poteſtatem.
